MANY CERTIFICATES GIVEN

CLOSING EXERCISES BY THE ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Music and Recitations in the Auditorium—Address by Rev. C. E. Wheeler.

The commencement exercises of the St. John's College, primary, preparatory and second and fourth academic classes were held last night in the large auditorium of the school.

A selection by the orchestra was followed by a solo and chorus by the academics. The address of the Rev. C. E. Wheeler, Master Robert J. Donovan of the primary class, Alfonso Vanpoucke recited "Mamma's Kisses." Dennis O'Donnell gave a recitation, "The Cherry Tree." Maurice Roche, in his recitation, "A Little Boy," made many apologies for the trouble and annoyance he so often causes. "The Lovely Home," a description of the life and actions of the Child Jesus was given in turn by Thomas Horrigan, Daniel Ralph, Bernard Mullin and Edward Roche. Then the little ones sang "Good Morning, Tommy Tompkins," telling of the greeting a country school boy received every morning as he passed a farmer's barn yard. Reoline Zeh in his speech, "A Little by the Wayside," told the value of time. "The Child's Wish" was recited by Leo Drury and Gregory Finucane.

Program of the Academics.

The fourth academic class opened the second part of the program with the patriotic song, "Star Spangled Banner." In his selection, "I Didn't Mean To," Howard Norris amused the audience with his peculiar humor. A concert recitation was given by the boys of the fourth academic. Leo E. Madigan and Francis R. Heley in their dialogue, "How To Tell Bad News," portrayed the habit some people have of always emphasizing the sad things of life.

The academics then sang, in chorus, the lively air, "I Wish the Band Would Play"; Master David Burrier recited "Old Ironsides"; "Love of Country" was recited in concert by the boys of the third academic. Charles Barnes in his rendition of "Tom, the Drummer Boy," made a pronounced hit. The second and third academics then sang, in chorus, "Whisper Your Mother's Name." Michael Callaghan and Leo Daly in their dialogue, "A Candidate for Congress," described the sterling qualities required of such a candidate.

Injudiciousness.

From the Bohemian.

Policeman—Judge, this prisoner acted as if he was insane at the base ball game yesterday.

Judge—What did he do?

Policeman—During the game he threw his watch at one of the players.

Prisoner—It was an Ingersoll, Judge, and I was endeavoring to make the visiting catcher miff a foul fly.

Policeman—A few minutes later he ran through the grandstand shrieking like a wild person and smashing other men's hats.

Prisoner—One of our team swatted out a three-bagger and brought in three runs, making the game a tie.

Policeman—The next second he jumped onto the diamond and assaulted the umpire.

Prisoner (excitedly)—The umpire called that three-base hit a foul, Judge.

Judge (an old fashioned prisoner is discharged). Officer, I reprimand you for your injudiciousness.

The Rolling Years.

From the Bohemian.

Our beautiful heroine had seen nineteen summers when the gallant young naval officer, whom she had promised to marry, sailed away in the cruiser, Kalamazoo.

Years rolled on. Nothing was heard from the ship. Our heroine grew pensive. Years rolled on again, and still no news. Our heroine wept. Once more years rolled on, and finally she gave him up for dead. Years rolled on, till quite unexpectedly the Kalamazoo returned from the antarctic expeditions, and the long-separated pair were reunited. How old was she?

Answer: Having been born in June, she was only eighteen years and a small fraction of age when our story opens. Each time the years rolled on they amounted to one and one-third hundred and sixty-five years, and as they rolled four times the total rolling was four years and four days; which would make our heroine, at the time of the happy final, twenty-two years old.

The Unlucky "Quarter."

From Harper's Weekly.

Those who believe that thirteen is an unlucky number should fight shy of a quarter dollar, for it has thirteen stars, thirteen letters in the scroll held in the eagle's beak, thirteen marginal feathers on each wing, thirteen lines in the shield, thirteen horizontal bars, thirteen arrows and thirteen letters in its name. Who would have a quarter?

PREDICTS PROHIBITION GAINS

ILLINOIS CHAIRMAN BASES CLAIM ON BRYAN'S ATTITUDE.

Statement From the Nebraskan Denying His Position Toward His Party and Personal Views.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 12.—Predicting great gains in the south, with possible victory in all southern prohibition states, State Chairman Alonzo Wilson of Illinois told the Wisconsin state prohibition convention here yesterday that the foundation of his expectation was the alleged opposition of William J. Bryan to prohibition.

"In 1890," said Mr. Wilson, "Mr. Bryan stumped Nebraska against a prohibition amendment to the Nebraska constitution. I have also in my possession a copy of a letter from Mr. Bryan to southern men who desire a plank for prohibition in the democratic national platform. In this letter Mr. Bryan declares if his wishes are followed there will be no such plank in the platform. As Mr. Bryan is in control of the democratic party, his platform desires will undoubtedly control in the democratic national convention, and therefore, no prohibition plank can be expected from that convention."

Mr. Wilson said this was the expectation of the southern delegates who had been looking into the subject.

Bryan Defines His Position.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 12.—Referring last night to a dispatch from Milwaukee concerning his attitude on prohibition, Mr. Bryan said:

"I have received many letters from prohibitionists and many from opponents of prohibition, and I have answered them all in the same way. I have told them that I did not regard the question as a national question. While it is an issue in a number of states, I do not expect it to be made an issue by either the republican or the democratic national convention. I have made it a rule not to discuss questions outside the platform, because the candidate has no right to ignore issues which his platform excludes. In answer to questions about my own record on the subject, I have stated that so far as my personal habits go I am a teetotaler, never having used liquor as a beverage; but in 1890 I voted against the state prohibition amendment, because I thought the license system we had, with local option, was better suited to the conditions we had to meet in our state."

"When an attempt has been made to draw conclusions from this as to what ought to be done in other states, I have called attention to the fact that state laws ought to be made to meet the conditions existing in the state and that what I did in Nebraska could not be a guide in states where conditions were different."

"In other words, I have refused to give advice on the question in other states because I am not sufficiently informed as to the conditions in the various states, and I have refused to discuss it as a national question, because I do not expect it to be an issue in the campaign."

Mr. Bryan and Charles A. Towne of New York attended the meeting last night of the Lincoln Bryan Club, which made addresses outlining the issues of the coming national campaign.

INSTRUCTS FOR BRYAN.

Virginia Democratic Convention Elects Delegates to Denver.

ROANOKE, Va., June 12.—The state democratic convention on reassembling yesterday afternoon was addressed by Gov. Swanson, Senators Daniel and Martin and Representative Flood. Every mention of the name of William Jennings Bryan by the speakers was wildly cheered by the delegates, and several times the convention rose to its feet.

The permanent organization was effected at the night session, when Representative E. W. Saunders of the fifth district was chosen chairman, J. Taylor Ellyson, the incumbent, was re-elected state chairman. Mr. Ellyson was also chosen as Virginia's member of the national committee.

Nominations for delegates at large were then in order and the following were named as Virginia's "big four": Senators Daniel and Martin and Gov. C. A. Swanson and former Gov. Hoge Taylor.

The majority report calling for instructions to vote for Mr. Bryan was adopted. The convention adopted a resolution to the effect that the primary system be submitted to the state committee, who shall investigate the system and prepare suggestions and provisions for changes to be made at the convention in 1912. This committee is instructed to call for a reduction by the state of the primary system and to submit a bill calling for or legalizing the primary system.

SPEECHES URGE HARMONY.

Kentucky Democratic Convention Instructs for Bryan.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 12.—Harmony characterized the democratic state convention at the Auditorium yesterday. At the afternoon session harmony speeches were made by Representative Stanley, C. J. Bronston of Lexington, by former Gov. Beckham and by Senator McCreary. Perhaps the most noisy and enthusiastic demonstration was for former Gov. Beckham and the one personal thrust was when Beckham, referring to the report in a morning paper that he has been defeated, said that he and his friends could never be so severely beaten that they would bolt the party.

The resolutions reaffirm allegiance and devotion to the democratic principles represented by Jefferson as set forth in the platform of 1904 and instruct the delegates to cast the vote of Kentucky as a unit at Denver for William Jennings Bryan for President.

Telegrams were received at the convention from William J. Bryan and Henry Watterson, who is visiting Bryan at Lincoln, Neb., congratulating the democrats of Kentucky on being united.

EFFECT OF PROHIBITION LAW.

Doctor Fined for Securing Beer for a Woman Patient.

PEORIA, Ill., June 12.—Dr. Roy P. Richards of Hopedale, Ill., was fined $20 and costs in a Pekin justice court for violation of the "dry" ordinance of the village of Hopedale. The physician prescribed beer for Mrs. Greismer. She was not able to obtain the beverage because of the prohibition law. The physician ordered the beer from another city. On delivery the physician received for the package and took it to the patient. Some neighbors saw the transaction and filed a complaint. The doctor entered a plea of guilty.

AGED COUPLE ELOPE.

Wealthy Widower Eludes the Vigilance of Opposing Sons.

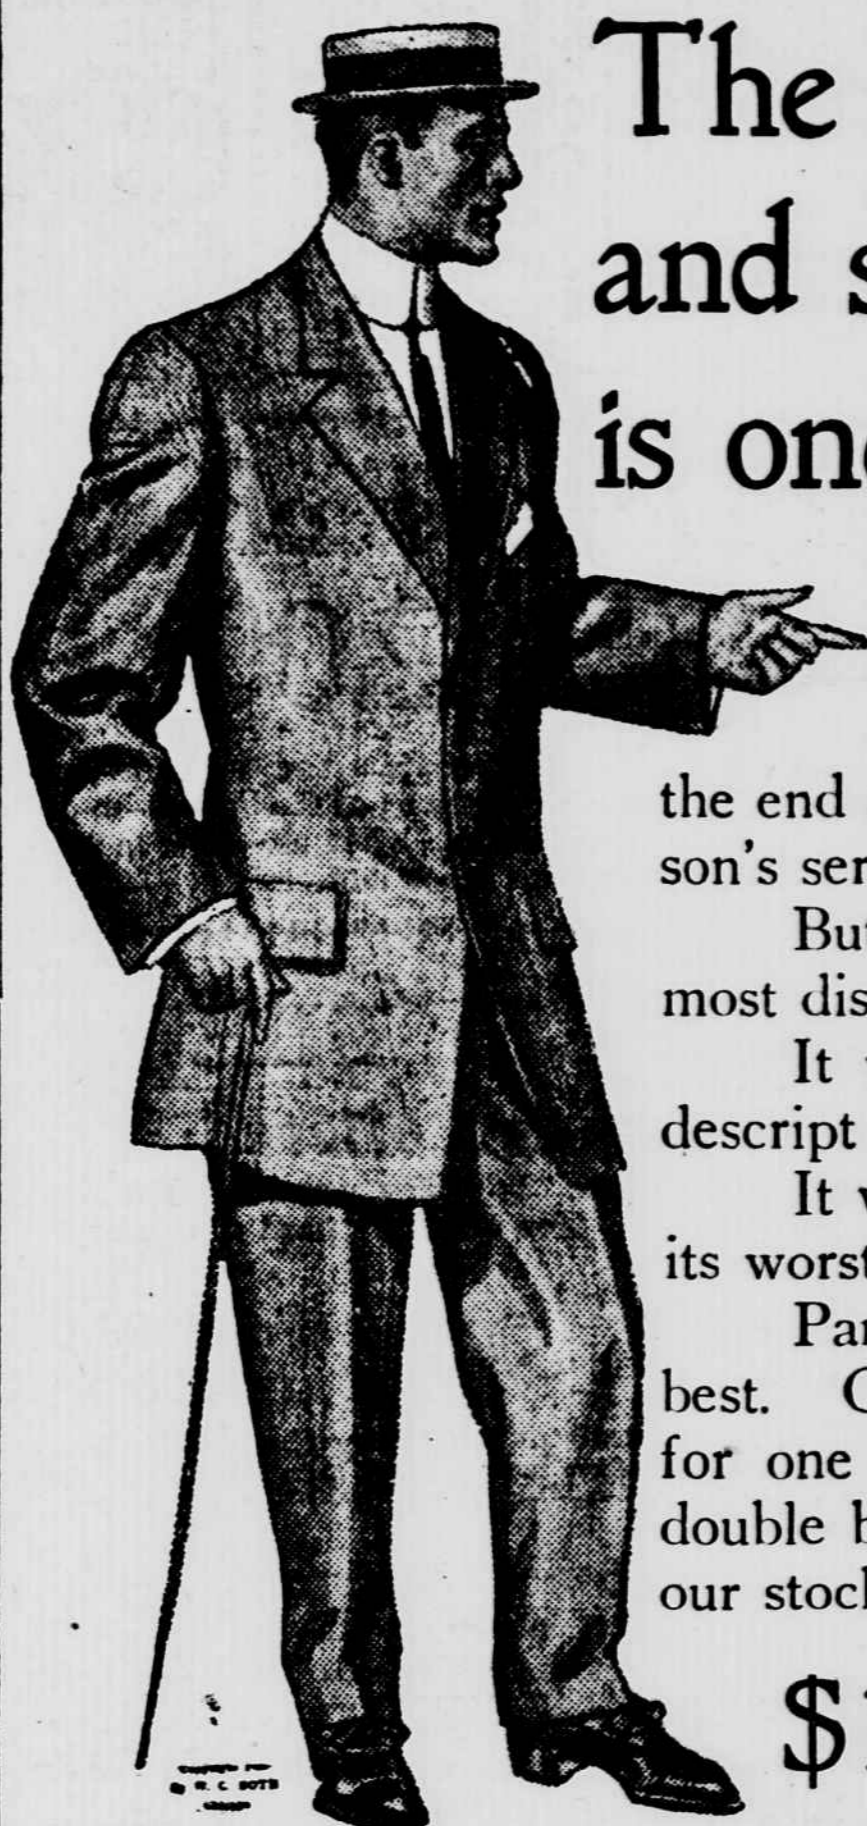

MADISON, Wis., June 12.—Rudolph Ploetz, aged seventy-nine, a wealthy widower of the village of Prairie du Sac, eloped yesterday with Miss Ursula Hungen, aged eighty, his sweetheart of childhood days.

Unknown to his six sons, who had bitterly opposed his marriage, the aged bridegroom and his bride slipped into Madison and were married by a justice of the peace. The system of espionage on the part of the sons, who had failed to prevent him carrying out his desire. The couple were sweethearts in youth and had parted after a petty quarrel. Mrs. Hungen had remained married, waiting a lifetime for her first love.

Bryan Gets New Mexico's Delegates.

DOSWELL, N. M., June 12.—The democratic territorial convention yesterday elected twelve delegates to the national convention to be held at St. Louis, Mo., on August 12. Bryan was elected by a unit for W. J. Bryan until he is nominated for President. A. A. Lafraxota of Las Vegas was nominated for delegate in Congress.

PARKER, BRIDGET & CO., "Ninth and the Avenue."

The most practical and serviceable suit is one of blue serge.

If it is good it will withstand the ravages of heat and rain, and look almost as fresh at the end as at the beginning of the season's service.

But if the serge be poor it is the most disappointing of fabrics.

It will fade into all sorts of non-descript colors.

It will pucker and wrinkle and look its worst in very little time.

Wide-brim "Sennit" straws, $2 and $3.

Most hat stores were "caught napping" this season. They failed to foresee the trend of fashion, and the demand for the wide-brim rough straws caught them with but little stock. China's Friendship for America.

Secretary Taft in Leslie's Weekly.

China is undergoing a transformation. The empress dowager is a progressive woman, and is looking for men to lead the nation on. We got them to agree to pay an indemnity, and we found it was too much money, so, having found that, but is simply to return some of it, and we hope China will conclude that that indemnity shall be expended on the education of her sons in America, and if it will have a greater effect than will the education of any other nation, because the educated man is recognized in China as the proper leader. They recognize that America does not covet their territory, but is simply seeking their trade on the same basis as other nations. It has taken them some time to find this out, but the return of the indemnity has helped them

He was a great inventor. "The thing I am working at now," he began, stroking his thin beard with a thinner hand, "will be a boon to every family and will startle the whole world. In fact, it will put the alarm clock trust out of business. The idea is simply specially prepared tablets that help you get up in the morning. For instance, if you want to arise at 5 you take five tablets; if you want to get up at 6, take six tablets; and so on."
